

Join

Reduce Reuse
Recycle

is it about your attitude or action?

Supported by

The Big Debate

Birmingham City University invites you and a guest to a compelling Big Debate which explores the issues that influence our environmental commitment at work and at home and the role that emerging leaders play in changing behaviour.

The Big Debate chaired by the BBC's Special Correspondent Richard Bilton, features Shadow Environment Secretary Peter Ainsworth, Leading Blogger of Treehugger.com, Leonora Oppenheim and Birmingham Post and Mail Environmental Correspondent Patrice John.

Date: Monday 15th September 2008

Time: Debate starts at 12noon prompt; please be seated by 11:55am at the latest (Light Refreshments from 11.30am)

Location: International Convention Centre, Hall 5, Broad Street, Birmingham, B1 2EA

RSVP: Charmaine Stint, Corporate Events Manager

Tel: 0121 331 6895

Email: charmaine.stint@bcu.ac.uk