

Drought risk in 2012 across England and Wales

The risk of drought is classified according to the current water resources position in Environment Agency regions and/or catchment areas, and the possible impacts on water resources, agriculture, wildlife and water supplies over the rest of autumn 2011 and winter 2011/12.