Curriculum Innovation and Sustainability

*‘Education for sustainable development allows every human being to acquire the knowledge, skills, attitudes and values necessary to shape a sustainable future’

‘When Learning for Sustainability reaches its fullest potential, it is a transformative experience: changing our understanding of the world, our place in it and our interactions with it.’ (LfSS, 2014).

Contributors Include:

Simon Kemp of Southampton University, a noted expert in ESD, Learning for Sustainability Scotland and the National Union of Students, Scotland.

Staff and students are invited to talks and workshops on Education for Sustainability (ESD) and curriculum innovation. The event sponsored by Abertay's Network for Teaching and Learning Enhancement (NetTLE), aims to bring together lecturers, teachers, researchers and students involved in tertiary education to discern ESD and its applicability in the Tayside region.

The event is free but booking is essential.
