

An exchange is more than just words

SPONSORED BY:

In September 2012, the EAUC delivered the Sustainability Exchange into the hands of the sector. For the first time, leading organisations from across the tertiary education sector joined forces to combine resources and experience. It is the UK's first centralised information portal and online community for the sector, sharing a wealth of information that is available to everyone

The Sustainability Exchange is a place for colleagues in different institutions and organisations to interact and share their sustainability experiences via active community forums, a news feed, an events diary, best practice guides, tool kits, reports, research, webinars and videos. It's called an 'Exchange' as that's what we need you to do – give your knowledge freely in exchange for another's – this is the ethos that continues to drive our sector today and this portal truly brings this to life.

our sophisticated search tags to make finding the specific resource you want as simple and precise as possible!

You will find all upcoming webinars, recordings, notes and presentations from all of our 'exchanges' at www.sustainabilityexchange.ac.uk/exchanges

INSPIRING KNOWLEDGE EXCHANGE... OVER LUNCH!

A key part of the Sustainability Exchange is encouraging dialogue and sharing of ideas and approaches whether through resources, forums or other online methods. It is this concept that inspired our 'exchanges'. Since the platform's launch, the EAUC have been delivering a series of free lunchtime webinars, hosted by the Sustainability Exchange. These webinars see professionals from all over the UK coming together to share ideas on sustainability with a small audience, connecting via a user-friendly platform and taking advantage of the lunchtime period to learn something new over a sandwich.

So far, we've held 13 exchanges, with topics ranging from sustainable food, paper recycling, various behavioural change themes and environmental reporting (see list right). Each webinar is hosted by a member of the EAUC team and presented live to up to 25 delegates. A recording is taken and then uploaded to the Sustainability Exchange as a permanent resource to be shared with all users. As with all resources, each item is tagged with

Register now

Once you've registered, you'll be the first to know about new exchanges taking place. With limited availability on our live webinars, registering is vital. Plus, once you've logged in, you gain access to the main forum and resources not available to those simply looking around the platform.

All you need is an email address and password. If you're an EAUC Member, you can log in using your email and existing EAUC password.

Get in touch: If you have an idea you'd like to discuss or a project you'd like to share, you can host an exchange. We provide the platform, you provide the knowledge. Please get in touch with us at sustainabilityexchange@eauc.org.uk. The Sustainability Exchange is delivered by the EAUC, led by Staffordshire University and funded by HEFCE through its Leadership, Governance and Management Fund. www.sustainabilityexchange.co.uk
