

PUBLIC LECTURE

THURSDAY 8TH JUNE 2017

4:00-5:00pm – with refreshments and arrivals from 3.30pm
TC014, Elwes Building, Park Campus, Cheltenham

MARK WOOD, POLAR EXPLORER “LIFE IN A FREEZER – THINKING DIFFERENT”

We are delighted to welcome Mark Wood, notable polar explorer and adventurer, who has completed over 30 major expeditions to date.

Mark will spend 3 months from August – October this year training in the Himalayas and at Everest Base Camp preparing for the expedition to the summit which will take place in the spring of 2018, where he will use cutting-edge technology to connect with over one million students in 8848 classrooms around the globe.

Mark is ranked in the top 5 global communicators on the Skype platform, and featured in major BBC and Channel 5 documentaries. He uses his unique experience to help people think differently, to inspire leadership, and to raise awareness of climate change and cultural differences.

EVENT INFORMATION

This public lecture forms part of the annual University Festival and marks the release of the University’s Sustainability Strategy 2017-2022.
